THE present volume of AMERICAN BOOK-PRICES CURRENT records 7547 lots, 7047 being books and 500 autographs, selected from catalogues of 114 sales. These 114 catalogues represent 219 days' sales and aggregate more than 85,000 lots. While the total number of lots and of days' sales is slightly in excess of those taking place during the preceding twelve months, there were fewer lots of sufficient importance to admit them within our compilation.

The most important library dispersed during the year was that of the late Charles Deane, which was sold by C. F. Libbie & Co., in two sales, — the first March 8, 9, and 10, and the second March 29, 30, 31, and April 1. Mr. Deane was for many years Vice-President of the Massachusetts Historical Society, and had himself published a large number of historical monographs mostly relating to early Massachusetts history. His collection contained some of the rarest books relating to New England history, and, while many of them were not faultless in condition, still they brought high prices. One of the most interesting books was a copy of the first edition of Cushman's Sermon, "On the Danger of Self Love," being the first printed sermon preached in New England. It brought $1000, and was the highest-priced book, with a single exception, to be sold during the year. A copy of John Smith's "True Relation," of 1608, his first book, brought $1425.00, being the highest-priced item sold during the same period. Among the Deane autographs the item which brought the highest price — and the highest price of any autograph sold during the year — was a letter of William Bradford, addressed to Governor Winthrop. This, which had been given to the late Mr. Deane by a descendant of Governor Winthrop, sold for $1030.00. The total number of lots in the two catalogues, including the autographs, was 4153, and the total amount realized was $34,086.72.

The library of the late Frederick D. Stone, Librarian of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, was sold by Stan. V. Henkels, in Philadelphia, in two sales of October 18 and October 26. The collection contained many interesting pieces of Americana and was especially rich in books relating to Pennsylvania.

The library of the Middlesex Mechanics Association, of Lowell, Mass., was sold by C. F. Libbie & Co., in three sales, of November 2 and 3, November 16 and 17, and December 1 and 2. The books all had library stamps and the prices were oftentimes low. The catalogues included a number of long sets of periodicals and series of Government publications, which rarely come up in auction rooms.

The library of the late Dr. Leonard R. Koecker was sold by Mr. Henkels, on December 2. Dr. Koecker was one of the earlier generation of book-collectors, contemporary with John Allan, and one of the few book-collectors who have enjoyed binding their own books. He became expert in all branches of bookbinding, and his library contained a number of specimens of his handiwork.

In the sale of February 8 and 9, by C. F. Libbie & Co., was included the musical collection of the late Alexander W. Thayer, of Cambridge, Mass. It contained a number of German musical serials, some American music engraved by Paul Revere, etc.

A lot of books, sold by Bangs & Co., February 16, 17, and 18, included a number of works by, or relating to, Charles Lamb. Among the rest was the then supposedly unique copy of the first edition of his "Mr. H."

The library of the late James H. Brown, of Malden, Mass., a collector of everything relating to the drama and the American stage, was disposed of by C. F. Libbie & Co. in three sales. The books were sold April 12, 13, and 14, the autographs on May 11, 12, and 13, and the playbills (which do not find a place in our compilation) on June 15 and 16.

The library of the late Francis B. Hayes, of Boston, occupied four days' sale, the catalogue comprising 1873 lots, and was sold by Bangs & Co., April 26 to April 29. Among the books were some attractive titles, including the folio Shakespeares of 1623, 1632, 1663, 1664, and 1685, and the first five editions of Walton's Complete Angler. Unfortunately, however, the copies were not fine ones, the folios all having more or less in facsimile, and the Waltons being cut-down and inferior copies generally. The collection also included a number of standard sets, which sold at prices below the average. It is probable that if the library had come up for sale a month earlier the prices would have been better. The sale took place immediately after the beginning of the war with Spain, and buyers were temporarily overcautious.

Several consignments of remainders from English booksellers were sold during the year. The catalogues for several of these sales were identical. We have not recorded every sale of many of the books, but have included a representative selection. The same may be said of some other modern books.

Our compilation is consulted primarily for prices as a guide to estimating values of other copies of the same books offered for sale. To aid the collector in his estimates, we have this year incorporated in the form of notes to 470 of the more important and interesting items records of 1540 previous sales of the same books at auction in England or America. Those who have undertaken to look up a number of previous records of sales at auction will appreciate the fact that the drawing off of these notes has required a considerable expenditure of time.

We have this year also, for the first time, prefixed to the date of sale the name of the owner of the library, where such name was made public. As is well known, a book will bring a better price when sold in an important sale than when sold with a quantity of uninteresting items. To have the name of the sale given in the record will, therefore, often remove the necessity of referring to our chronological list.

The arrangement is identical with the two preceding volumes. Books are entered under their author, where the author is known; otherwise, under the first important word of the title. To this there are some exceptions. Anonymous histories and biographies will usually be found under their subjects. The publications of clubs and societies are usually under the name of the society; but occasionally publications of some of the minor societies will be found under the name of their author. Different books by the same author are arranged alphabetically by titles, and different editions of the same book are arranged according to date of publication. The autographs are, of course, arranged alphabetically by authors.

The date given under each lot is that of the first day of the sale.

The full period covered may be found by referring to the chronological list of sales following this preface. The number in parenthesis is the original lot number in the sale catalogue. Books in American auction rooms are sold by the volume, but the prices here given are for the lot, not per volume.

In the Index the books are classified by subjects. We have tried to make it especially full in American local history. As many collectors are interested especially in books relating to certain States and towns, local histories have been put under the State and afterward under the town. The names of States have been set in black-faced type and those of the towns in small capitals.

The abbreviations used in describing the autographs are well known to all collectors. A. L. S. is Autograph Letter Signed; A. L. is Autograph Letter, unsigned; L. S. is Letter Signed, the signature only autographic; D. S. is Document Signed.
